DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this

Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1-3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by applicant's prior art admission, Figure 1.

Regarding claim 1, see Figure 1.

Regarding claim 2, see applicant's background of the invention, page 4, lines 13-16.

Regarding claim 3, in addition of above, the vertical signal unit 14 and inverter 16 meet the correcting means as claimed since it changes or corrects the driving signal Sc.

3. Claims 1-3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Akimoto et al. (4,709,268).

Regarding claim 1, Akimoto shows an oscillator (30), and a phase comparator (18).

Regarding claim 2, the equalizer pulses and other noises have different pulse durations.

Regarding claim 3, in addition of above, the gates 16 and 20 meet the correcting means as claimed because it they change or correct the outcome of the phase comparator 18.

Allowable Subject Matter

4. Claims 4-8 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Claim Objections

5. Claim 4 is objected to because of the following informalities: "The method" should be changed to "The circuit". Appropriate correction is required.

Conclusion

6. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

Chen (5,189,515) shows a phase locked loop.

Cirot et al. (6,211,920) shows a phase adjuster.
